

Have You Found Your Soul Mate Yet?

Dr Roshan Jain

A soul mate is a person who has come into your life at a specific time, to awaken and teach you the lessons you need to learn as well as fulfil your life's ambitions

What Does Soul Mate Mean?

A soul mate is quite different from a life partner. The latter is an individual you trust, lean on and depend on throughout your life. The foundation of this relationship is based on mutual care, respect and love. A life partner complements your state of existence. Also, while we usually have one life partner, we can have many soul mates with the sole purpose of awakening us.

A soul mate is a person who has come into our lives at a specific time, to awaken and teach us the lessons we need to learn as well as fulfil our life's ambitions. Soul mates arrive to challenge us and help us evolve to higher state of consciousness.

Everyone is interested in meeting his or her soul mate, but it's important to remember that soul mate relationships don't always last forever and may come to a close, once the purpose is fulfilled.

The Arrival Of Your Soul Mate

The unexpectedness of a soul mate's arrival makes it a euphoric and enchanting subject. We all enjoy that out-of-the blue experience when we meet our soul mate, because it brings with it that sense of déjà-vu, or of feeling that I have known this person in the past. The feeling can be intense and there is usually an urge to be with that soul mate irrespective of consequences. Occasionally, those feelings drive one to do some 'soul-searching' and introspection, something one wouldn't have embarked on if not for such profound feelings.

The signs of the arrival of a soul mate, is often intellectualised. However, it would be good to remember that our intuition lets us in. But there are commonalities in our ambition, general outlook and attitude with that of our soul mate, which may bring about the realisation. Also, arrival may work both ways, as in we may work on our aspiration and then feel that we are destined to fulfil life ambitions when we are with this mate.

Your Soul And Your Soul Mate

They say, each soul mate has a perfect match - your soul. It is believed that your true spiritual soul mate is the person who is intended to help you complete yourself. Unsurprisingly, this subject brings on intrigue and enthusiasm, therefore references to romance and a life partner is inevitable. But it is important to note that you can have soul mates in every sphere of life: as a partner, friend, teacher, associates, etc.
